HOW WE WORK

Our Process

A methodical, low-risk approach that starts with understanding your business – not jumping straight into tools.

01

Discover & Diagnose

Understand first, automate second.

We learn how your business actually works: goals, constraints, handoffs, and what a 'win' looks like.

We map your tech stack and where data lives: CRMs, inboxes, spreadsheets, internal tools.

We audit processes to find real bottlenecks and decide what should and shouldn't be automated.

02

Design, Build & Validate

Custom solutions, tested before launch.

We prioritize high-impact opportunities and decide where AI helps, and where it doesn't.

We design and build custom workflows, test different approaches on real data, and explain our choices in plain language.

Launch, Monitor & Optimize

Continuous improvement, not a one-off project.

We launch into production with clear success metrics and safeguards.

We monitor performance, collect feedback from your team and customers, and fix issues quickly.

We continuously refine prompts, logic, and models so the system improves as your business evolves.

Nate Herk

Nate Herkelman (yes, that is his full name) is an AI automation creator and educator. He graduated from the University of Iowa with a double major in Business Analytics and Marketing.

After working as a Business Intelligence Analyst at Goldman Sachs, he transitioned out of the corporate world in November 2024 to build his own AI automation agency and education brand.

Today, he teaches people how to master AI agents, build automations, and turn those skills into real income, while leading one of the largest AI automation communities in the world. He has helped hundreds of business owners scale their operations with AI.
